SLII.

Powering Inspired Leaders

INTRODUCTION

With business moving at a blistering pace, there's more pressure than ever for leaders to be effective at leading successful teams. But often, they don't have the skills to be the agile, adaptive leaders they need to be and struggle building meaningful connections with their people to drive results.

It's not for lack of trying or wanting to be great leaders. Research has shown that most leaders use one leadership style—so they don't know how to unleash the potential of their people.

They need to learn how to lead situationally.

Backed by 40 years of research and an unmatched track record of results, The SLII Experience™ teaches your leaders how to lead situationally by giving their people the right support or direction at the right time.

This taster session will introduce you to:

- The SLII experience
- The SLII philosophy
- The SLII methodology
- The activities that make this training so interactive
- The tools and takeaways from the training
